Cooke

Family passion
with global ambitions.

For us, fishing and farming isn't just a job or a business, it's who we are. It's an undying family passion that started six generations ago when our grandparents fished the Bay of Fundy and has ended up connecting us to local fishers and farmers all over the world.

While times have changed, our commitment hasn't. Like our relatives, we're obsessed with finding better and smarter ways to bring you the very best seafood in the world.

This entrepreneurial spirit, the hard work of our people, and our commitment to sustainability, is what has propelled us to keep making bold moves and casting wide nets.

What began in 1985 as a humble family aquaculture company with a single marine site has grown into a global seafood leader with fully-integrated facilities, product lines, and distribution networks. We are focused on growing our business and always evolving to serve our customers.

As for how we do it all, it's quite simple: when we cultivate the ocean with care, it allows us to nourish the world, provide for our families, and create stronger communities. We are committed to the pursuit of excellence, and we believe you can taste the difference.

CULTIVATE. NOURISH. PROVIDE.

A WORLD OF SALMON, WITHIN REACH!

The best kept secret for global success? We live and work around the world, but hold fast to a local mindset; the focus is simply producing delicious, fresh salmon, day in and day out, for those around us. We care for our communities – and the ripple effect reaches around the world. Cooke proudly operates and harvests fresh Atlantic salmon from the following countries:

Canada, United States, Chile, Scotland, and Australia

Global supply

Coming from Canada, the United States, Chile, Scotland, and Australia, we have the unique ability to leverage a global supply of Atlantic salmon to meet customer needs.

Proximity to markets

To ensure the freshest Atlantic salmon, delivered in a timely manner, we strategically utilize our global footprint to service many markets and major cities on every continent. With supply coming from many different countries, we can determine which market makes sense for your order and deliver our best.

PURE FLAVOUR FROM COLD CANADIAN WATERS.

Raised without antibiotics in the cold Canadian waters off Newfoundland, Canada, our Steelhead Trout delivers a mild, delicate flavour and a naturally lean profile that cooks quickly while maintaining its firm, satisfying texture. Harvested from November through August, it offers consistent quality and dependable supply. BAP and BRCGS certified, making it a sustainably raised Atlantic protein you can rely on.

A photograph of two pieces of smoked salmon, one larger and one smaller, resting on a light-colored wooden cutting board. The salmon has a golden-brown, slightly charred exterior and a moist, pinkish-orange interior. A small sprig of fresh dill is placed next to the larger piece of salmon. The background is a light, textured surface.

WE ARE PROUD THAT OUR GLOBAL OPERATIONS PRODUCE PRODUCTS THAT MEET THE FOLLOWING CERTIFICATIONS

ASC

The Aquaculture Stewardship Council is an independent, international non-profit organization that manages a global program of species-specific standards for farmed seafood that promote environmental sustainability and social responsibility. These standards are benchmarked to the Global Sustainable Seafood Initiative (GSSI). For more information on ASC, visit www.asc-aqua.org.

BAP

The Best Aquaculture Practices (BAP) program is an international certification program based on achievable, science-based and continuously improved standards for the entire farmed seafood production chain – including the processing plant, farm, hatchery and feed mill. Covering environmental responsibility, social accountability, food safety and animal welfare, the BAP certification program was developed by the Global Seafood Alliance, formerly the Global Aquaculture Alliance. These standards are benchmarked to the Global Sustainable Seafood Initiative (GSSI). For more information, visit www.bapcertification.org.

Food Safety

CERTIFICATED

BRCGS Global Standards

Brand Reputation Compliance Global Standards is a leading brand and consumer protection organization, used by over 28,000 certificated suppliers over 130 countries, with certification issued through a global network of accredited certification bodies. The BRCGS Food Safety standard provides a comprehensive framework that covers various aspects of food safety, including Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points (HACCP), traceability and quality management systems. This standard is benchmarked to the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI). For more information, please visit www.brcgs.com.

MSC

The Marine Stewardship Council (MSC) is an international non-profit organization established to address the problem of unsustainable fishing and safeguard seafood supplies for the future generations. MSC operates a science-based certification program for wild-caught seafood, paired with a chain of custody certification and ecolabeling program indicating sustainability sourced seafood which is traceable to the source. For more information, visit www.msc.org.

RFM

The Alaska Responsible Fisheries Management (RFM) Program is an ISO accredited, third-party fisheries certification program. It is a comprehensive certification program founded on the strongest and most widely acknowledged international standards and practices. Based on United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) criteria, RFM offers seafood buyers and sellers a credible, cost effective choice in seafood certification. For more information visit www.alaskaseafood.org/rfm-certification.

IFS

International Featured Standards are uniform food, product, and service standards. They ensure that IFS-certified companies produce a product or provide a service that complies with customer specifications, while continually working on process improvements. For more information, visit www.ifs-certification.com.

Canadian Organic Regime

The Canadian Organic Regime (COR) is a federally managed program under the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA) Safe Food for Canadians Act (SFCA). Initially developed for terrestrial species, the program was expanded to include organic aquaculture and covers all stages of production, including processing and labelling.

Naturland

Naturland is an international association with standards for organic certification including agriculture, aquaculture, textiles, timber and other forms of production and processing. For more information visit www.naturland.de/en.

Soil Association Organic

The Soil Association is the UK's leading membership charity campaigning for healthy, humane, and sustainable food, farming, and land use. Their organic standards are the most widely used, recognized, and trusted organic standards in the UK and they have a strong international reputation. For more information, visit www.soilassociation.org.

Kosher

Kosher foods are foods that conform to the Jewish dietary regulations of kashrut (dietary law). The Orthodox Union (OU) is the world's largest and most widely recognized kosher certification agency. For more information, visit www.oukosher.org.

Global G.A.P.

The GLOBAL G.A.P. Aquaculture Standard establishes criteria for legal compliance, food safety, workers' occupational health, safety, and welfare, animal welfare, as well as environmental and ecological care. The Standard covers the entire production chain from feed to fork. For more information, visit www.globalgap.org.

Label Rouge

Label Rouge designates products that, through their production or manufacturing conditions, have a higher level of superior quality which is independently validated by the Institut national de l'origine et de la qualité (INAO). For more information, visit www.inao.gouv.fr/en/label-rouge and www.saumonecossais.com/en.

Friend of the Sea

Friend of the Sea is an international certification program for products from sustainable fisheries and aquaculture. It also supports projects of preservation and protection of the environment and marine habitats. Find more at www.friendofthesea.org
